

Please, no cell phone use during the flight. The current rules, allowing cell phone use prior to take-off and after landing, seem sufficient. A scattered group of loud talking (for some reason most cell phone users need to speak loud) will further degrade the flying experience.